

Susan Swartz is a California journalist, author and public radio commentator. She's been writing about women since she reported on consciousness raising groups and covered a rising star in the women's movement named Gloria Steinem.

She says:

Back then I was also going to New York to cover the latest in fashion and beauty, which is pretty typical of how most of us continued to grow, torn between fascinations - our head wrapped around issues, our face in the mirror.

Living in the San Francisco Bay Area gives Susan a good place to report on outspoken women and Boomer angst which she did for twenty years in her award-winning column for the Santa Rosa Press Democrat and the New York Times News Service.

I've always said that being a journalist made me a better feminist. And being a feminist made me a better journalist. Because both insist that you keep your eyes open, challenge stereotypes and ask "what's this about?"

2010

www.sonomalibrary.org

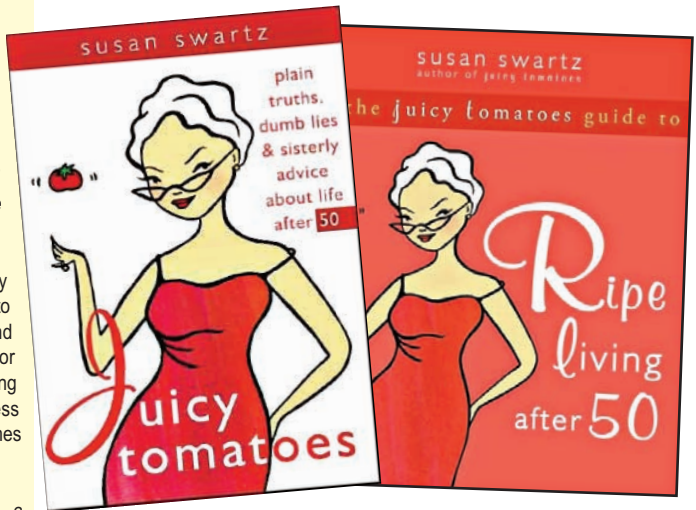

Meet the Author Susan Swartz

Author of the Juicy Tomatoes books!

Write It Down

Susan will discuss:

- Where her ideas come from
- What she knows about other authors' inspirations
- What's happening to writers in the changing world of publishing

Tuesday, April 6 @ 5:30 pm
Healdsburg Regional Library

139 Piper Street 433-3772

Sponsored by Friends of the Healdsburg Library

Saturday, April 24 @ 2:00 pm
Guerneville Regional Library

14107 Armstrong Woods Road 869-9004

Sponsored by River Friends of the Library

Saturday, May 15 @ 2:00 pm
Rohnert Park-Cotati Regional Library

6250 Lynne Conde Way, Rohnert Park 584-9121

Sponsored by Rohnert Park-Cotati Friends of the Library